Dear Medical Radiation Practice Board,

I am writing to you about the discriminatory nature of your recent communique dated 13 December 2011, I have informed my local member of this lack in standards. I would also require a response directly.

1. This communique is only available on the web, which discriminates towards people who don't have computer access, it needs to be published in a National Paper, or posted to all. I would like to receive updates via my business address... (personal information removed)

2. I would like to participate in the Sydney Forum, however listed in the document is a requirement to book for a session, (I would like to attend the session on the 20th of Feb in the Sydney Metro, please include me in this) however there is no listing on where it will be, leaving this requirement close to an impossibility and completely unreasonable. Also given the amount of people in Sydney, it would seem unreasonable that there is only one session. I would like to know the location of the session, and also an alternative to be available in Sydney, should this session time not suit. This location must be close to public transport.

3. The current timeframe for the proposed standards are too short, I have contacted the minister for health about this, there needs to be an extension for people who have trouble reading legal jargon to seek legal advice and compose suitable responses to the proposed standards. What assistance are you offering to assist in the reading of this document? I require some assistance with the wording of some of the document.

I propose that the submission timeframe be extended by 60 days to allow for adequate feedback to occur.

Best regards,

Nathan Malitz
