- every conviction of a person for an offence
- every plea of guilty or finding of guilt by a court of the person for an offence, whether or not a conviction is recorded for the offence, and

Under the National Law, spent convictions legislation does not apply to criminal history disclosure requirements. The Board will decide whether your criminal history is relevant to the practice of your profession. You are not required to obtain or provide your Australian criminal history report, Ahpra will obtain this check on your behalf. But if you have not given us certified proof of identity documents since October 2019, you will need to do this first.

IMPAIRMENT

The National Law defines impairment as 'a physical or mental impairment, disability, condition or disorder (including substance abuse or dependence) that detrimentally affects or is likely to detrimentally affect your capacity to practise the profession'.

An illness or health condition that is safely managed is not the same as impairment, as these do not have a detrimental impact on your capacity to practise. Examples you do not need to tell us about include:

- wearing prescription glasses to correct your vision or hearing aids to correct your hearing, or
- seeing a psychologist for anxiety and following a treatment plan.

The National Law requires you to declare any such impairments at the time of renewal, including details of the impairment and how it is managed.

MINIMUM IDENTITY REQUIREMENTS

If you are applying from overseas or have recently arrived in Australia and are unable to provide evidence for categories A, B, C and D of the proof of identity requirements, you must meet the minimum identity requirements of:

- a certified copy of an overseas passport (an EU card is not acceptable), and
- if the applicant has ever been formally known by another name, or provides documentary evidence in support of their application in another name — a certified copy of proof of name change (marriage certificate, divorce papers, deed poll).

Following the assessment of your application, you will be required to personally present additional proof of identity documents at an Ahpra Office. Further information, and a list of the additional proof of identity documents required, can be found in the Ahpra Proof of identity requirements document under the heading What special circumstances apply to internationally qualified applicants or applicants who have recently arrived in Australia? This document is available at www.ahpra.gov.au/identity

PRACTICE

Practice means any role, whether remunerated or not, in which the individual uses their skills and knowledge as a practitioner in their regulated health profession. Practice is not restricted to the provision of direct clinical care. It also includes using professional knowledge in a direct non-clinical relationship with patients or clients, working in management, administration, education, research, advisory, regulatory or policy development roles and any other roles that impact on safe, effective delivery of health services in the health profession.

PROFESSIONAL INDEMNITY INSURANCE (PII)

You cannot practise as a medical radiation practitioner in Australia unless you are covered by your own, or third-party professional indemnity insurance (PII) arrangements that meet the requirements of the Board's registration standard. Remember, practising means using your skills and knowledge as a health practitioner in any paid or unpaid role in your profession.

Initial registration and annual renewal of registration requires a declaration that you will be covered for all aspects of practice for the whole period of the registration. You may be covered by your Australian employer's PII – you will need to confirm this with your employer.

For more information, view the full registration standard online at www.medicalradiationpracticeboard.gov.au/registration-standards

If you are registered in more than one division, you must show that you have practiced for at least 450 hours in each of the relevant divisions of registration (diagnostic radiography, radiation therapy nuclear medicine technology).

If you do not meet this requirement you will be asked to provide information that will allow the Board to decide what requirements are necessary to enable you to return to practice safely. These requirements may include an assessment of your competence, additional professional development, a period of supervised practice and/or impose conditions on your registration.
