Dear Whomever, from reading this paper and discussing CPD with other Health Professionals, it would seem that AIR CPD allocation of points is much less generous than other Professions. I am a Rural MIT and I find it quite difficult to attend workshops and professional meeting to keep up to speed with current standards. I can manage the current 12 annual point level without too many 720km round trips to Perth. I am quite sure 50 annual points on the current grading system would be impossible to attain. I believe a lot of compromise is required here. Cheers
